c. Plagiarism Checker X 2023 Professional Edition

A plagiarism checker uses advanced database software to scan for matches between your text and existing texts. Plagiarism checkers are software that can be used to cross-check text for duplicated content (this may include quoted material, paraphrased material, similarities in wording, etc.). These tools help to ensure that writing is original and correctly cited. When it is an original paper, the author should aim at zero plagiarism. However, in many journals, a similarity of up to 15% is allowed. For a chapter in a book, this limit is about 5% and in a thesis, less than 10% is accepted.

d. Computer Aided Drug Design (CADD)

CADD software plays a crucial role in the discovery and optimization of new drugs by employing various algorithms and simulations to predict and analyze the interactions between drugs and biological targets. CADD software utilizes molecular modeling techniques to represent and analyze the three-dimensional structure of molecules, such as small drug compounds and target proteins. This enables researchers to understand the structural features of drug-target interactions and make informed decisions during the drug discovery process. CADD software can perform virtual screening, which involves the rapid evaluation of large chemical databases to identify potential drug candidates. By employing various algorithms and filters, the software can prioritize compounds that are likely to bind to a specific target of interest, thereby reducing the number of molecules that need to be experimentally tested. The college owns a high end computer unit and CAD software (Desmond) for the purpose.
